COAST COUNCIL OF C. OF C. MEETS IN BAY ST. LOUIS

Members of the Coast Council of the C. of C. met in Bay St. Louis recently where they were lavishly entertained. Mr. and Mrs. Alden Mauffray were hosts in the early afternoon with cocktails at their lovely beach home. Later the group journeyed to the home of Dr. Emmet Lee Irwin "Darwood on the Jordan" where they enjoyed late afternoon cocktails and delicious party fare.

K. OF C's GO TO PASCAGOULA

Six members of the Pere Le Duc Council of the Knights of Columbus, Bay St. Louis, attended the District Council meeting held in Pascagoula last Sunday. Those attending from the local council were Edward Murtagh, E. J. Marengo, Carl Banderet, Albert Grass, George Heitzmann and Anthony Morreale.

Plans were made at the District Council meeting for the forthcoming State Convention to be held in Jackson, April 21, 22 and 23. Sunday morning before leaving for the District meeting the Ladies Auxiliary, with better than 40 members joined the Knights here for a joint attendance at the 7:00 o'clock Mass and Holy Communion at Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

Immediately following the church services a breakfast was held at the K. C. Hall on Main Street, with both groups attending.

FLINK MURDER TRIAL IN FOURTH DAY

Tension mounted daily this week in Bay St. Louis as the overcrowded courtroom became hot with hundreds of spectators intent on following the trial of Dale Morris, accused of the murder of Charles Flink last November 22.

The trial began Monday with the selection of a jury. More than 200 hundred men were called before twelve jurors and two alternates were selected. The following twelve men will determine the fate of the 32-year old Montana cowboy: Lovander Neale, George Smith, Allan Craft, Warren Beuhler, James Haas, Wilbur Favre, Robert Camors, Emile Haro, Curtis Bobinger, Raymond Ladner, Erv Neale, James Fillingame, with Sam Mayner and Lucas Pucheu, alternates.

About 11 o'clock Tuesday morning the trial got underway with Mrs. Bernice Flink the first witness called by Prosecuting attorney Boyce Holleman.

Mrs. Flink was requested to tell the events of the fatal night which led to the slaying of her husband.

Mrs. Flink stated "On the night of November 22, my husband, my daughter Barbara, my son Chuck and myself were in our home, which is on Highway 90 across from Watkins Restaurant. My daughter had come home that evening about 7:30 from Loyola University, in New Orleans.

"We had gone to bed and were asleep, when a clicking noise awakened me. I thought some one was trying to steal a tractor lawnmower which we own, and I awakened my husband, and told him what I had heard. He got out of bed, passed a double window of the bedroom to the clothes closet to get his gun. He had to rummage for several minutes before he found the gun which was lying under other things on the shelf of the closet. During the time he was looking for the gun, he was telling me that I should keep the locker clean of stuff so that he could find things he wanted. The car port where our 1953 Pontiac was parked is directly outside the bedroom window. Charles crossed the bedroom, went into the hall, and across the living room, with his gun. He turned on the living room light, opened the door, and I heard him say, 'I see you buddy.' Then I heard a shot. I ran into the living room, and saw my husband with one foot on the step outside the door, the other in the living room and leaning against the frame of the door. He did not say anything, but motioned me backward with his right hand in which he was simply holding the gun. Here Mrs. Flink went through the motions she described. 'I did not stop, but went towards my husband around the side of the room, I was crying. 'Lord, what have they done to you.' Charlie turned into the room, and as he did so a second shot was fired into his back and without a word he fell at my feet. I ran back to my daughter's bedroom where the telephone is, and told the operator I wanted the law as my husband had been shot. She told me she would get the law, and get me a doctor. I was connected with Dr. A. P. Smith, and the operator called the authorities. I told my daughter to keep my son in his room, then I ran back to where my husband was lying.

In a short time Dr. Smith, and Deputy Sheriff Sam Peterson of the Sheriff's office arrived.

When questioned by Howard McDonnell, defense attorney, Biloxi, as to whether or not she heard a car drive off, Mrs. Flink said, 'I was praying so loud and so hard that I did not hear anything, have you ever prayed that way?'

Mrs. Flink was further questioned as to whether or not the clicking noise she heard might not have been made by an automobile jack. She said it was possible, 'it sounded like gears of some kind.'

Court was recessed following this testimony. In the afternoon, James Ansley, Bay St. Louis surveyor was the second witness to take the stand. He testified that he had made plans at the request of the state, which were accurately scaled, showing the exact location of the Flink home, the novelty shop operated by them, the Highway and Watkins restaurant, across the highway, and that the plat also showed markings of cottages on the opposite side of the road, a little east of Watkins restaurant. This drawing was submitted as an exhibit by the prosecution.

Mrs. Louise Watkins, was the third witness to take the stand. She testified she owns and operates the restaurant located across the highway from the Flink home. On the night of November 22, 1955, she had closed her establishment about 8:30 and put on the television and retired to her living quarters which are in the same building housing the restaurant. Between 11 and 11:30 p. m. Mrs. Watkins said she had casually glanced through the windows to the front and had seen a light colored two toned station wagon apparently coming from the Flink driveway. She described the station wagon as 'teetering,' and said that it looked as though it had just turned from the drive to the highway. Asked if she had heard shots, she said 'no,' the distance was too far from her place to the Flink house for such sounds to carry, and she had all windows closed. She said she merely thought the Flinks had had company who were leaving. She was specific as to the time, as she said she was to pick up an employee who was at a show and had called her to pick her up. She said it was the next morning about 7:30 before she was aware that tragedy had struck the Flink home.

Mrs. Gertrude Larkey, was the fourth witness called. She testified she, her husband, Robert, and four children, two sons and two daughters, shared a duplex in Ocean Springs at that time, with Mrs. Delores Chambers, and that it was through Mrs. Chambers they became acquainted with Morris. She said he came to the house about three weeks before the 22 of November, with his son, and that he had a room there.

Mrs. Larkey was questioned extensively on the matter of an automobile tire, which her husband is said to have promised to replace for one that blew out on Morris' station wagon. She was also questioned on a trip made by her husband and Morris to Mobile on Nov. 22, their return, as in Mrs. Chambers' car, an Inn in Ocean Springs, where Morris, Larkey, and Miss Vera Morris, a friend of Morris, who had accompanied the two men to Mobile, had stopped for drinks. Mrs. Larkey said that she and Mrs. Chambers had gone to Red Drake's about 5:30 that afternoon, that her husband had come out, that Morris had been drinking, as had Larkey, and that sometime later they got Morris to leave. Morris went with the two women in Mrs. Chambers' car, and Larkey drove Morris' station wagon. They went to their home, where Mrs. Larkey said she prepared a dinner, and Morris ate a good meal. Later they (Larkey, Mrs. Larkey and Morris) started for New Orleans. The Larkey's son had been severely injured in an automobile accident in Abbeville, La. His parents had wanted to go to him, but did not have the money. Morris had told them the Sunday preceding the fatal Tuesday, he would drive them to the station wagon, got as far as New Orleans, and there found that Abbeville was some two hundred or more miles further, and that Morris said he could not make the trip, as he was worried about his son. They turned and went back to Ocean Springs. On Tuesday night they again started to Abbeville. Mrs. Larkey said that her husband drove the station wagon, that she sat between him and Morris. When they reached the Friendship House, Morris wanted to stop for a drink, the two men got out of the car, she stayed in and waited for them, when they returned Morris had a fifth of whiskey with him. As they neared Pass Christian Morris began to talk of stealing a tire to replace a bad one he had on the station wagon. She said she would have no part of stealing, and so did her husband. She said Morris began to get nasty, and when they crossed the Bay St. Louis bridge, he told her husband to slow down so that they could spot a car for a tire. Morris she stated, became so ugly that when her husband came to a group of cottages he stopped the car in front of them.

They both got out of the car. That Morris would not move to allow her to get out, she had to slide under the wheel to leave the car. She said Morris drove off, and she and her husband walked to Truck Town, where they talked for several minutes to a mechanic, then decided they would try to hitch hike back to Ocean Springs. They walked to the Highway, where they stood. Mrs. Larkey said the station wagon with Morris driving had returned and passed them. She was afraid he was trying to find them, and she and her husband hid. Later they got side back to Ocean Springs, where she said they arrived at 12:30 a. m.

Robert Larkey was next called to the stand and gave substantially the same evidence as that supplied by his wife. Mrs. Larkey said the next morning when they heard of the Flink murder they went to Ocean Springs' police Chief Broome, and reported what had happened with them the night before. Mr. and Mrs. Larkey were booked as material witnesses. They were jailed in Bay St. Louis for about a week, as they had no money for bonds. They later posted bonds of $1,000 for Mrs. Larkey and $2,000 for Larkey. They also went to New Orleans to give testimony for the extradition of Morris after he was arrested in that city. William Kenny, Miss. State Highway Patrolman was called to the stand. He testified the upper part of a jack found at Flink's home, a cartridge case, and a spent bullet found under the body of Flink, and another bullet extracted from the body of Flink, which was exhumed about ten days after burial, were turned over to experts for identification. The butt of the pine tree hit in the Flink yard was brought in as an exhibit.

Robert Frazier, FBI microscopic expert, from Washington, testified the scrapings sent him for analysis by the Miss. State Patrol were the same type of yellow pine as the butt of the tree taken from the Flink yard, and the scrapings taken from the station wagon of Morris.

And the upper part of the jack found at the scene matched the base later found in the station wagon of Morris, when he was arrested in New Orleans.

New Orleans Homicide Detective Candelbar took the stand and gave an account of the arrest of Morris in New Orleans had been alerted by Mississippi authorities, and were cruising along Gentry Highway. They inquired at the Bellevue Motel if a Dale Morris was registered. Told by the owner 'yes,' they asked permission to see if he was in his motel cabin, which was No. 1. Granted this by the owner, they knocked on the door, received no answer. They then requested permission to station four officers in Morris' cabin, and four in the cabin opposite. This was done. About 2:30 a. m. November 24, Morris with a woman companion entered the cabin, as Morris entered he was covered by shot guns and told he was wanted in connection with a murder in Mississippi. He was placed under arrest for Mississippi authorities on suspicion of the Flink murder. After questioning the N. O. police making Morris said 'This woman had nothing to do with that.' And would say no more until he saw a lawyer. The woman was identified as Miss Helen Poinbeauf. Morris admitted the red and white 1955 station wagon with a 22 automatic pistol, which was given as an exhibit along with 200 rounds of ammunition and a large type rifle with 20 rounds of ammunition, found in the station wagon, Morris admitted belonged to him.

Captain William Dowie of the New Orleans Police Dept. took the stand and identified the base of the jack as being that found in Morris' car at the time of his arrest.

Wednesday morning Patrolman Kenny was recalled to the stand to testify on weather conditions the night of the murder. He said it was clear, cool and bright moonlight.

Kenneth Whitfield was next placed on the stand and testified on the position of the body at the time he arrived which was just after Dr. Smith arrived at the home of the murdered victim. He testified the doctor had said death was instantaneous. He further identified a screen door taken from the Flink home, and used as an exhibit. He pointed out two holes, which he claimed were made by bullets from the markings of the screen wires on the projectiles found in the murdered man's body and home.

Captain Charles Kincaid, Ballistics expert of the New Orleans police department took the stand. He testified the bullets sent by the Mississippi authorities matched those fired from the gun belonging to Morris. Eleven pictures were introduced as exhibits. Kincaid said he had been in ballistics in New Orleans since 1925. Asked if he ever worked under former Supt. Scheuring, he said 'Yes for about 8 years.' Adolph Allen Ross, Ocean Springs policeman took the stand. He stated he knew Mr. and Mrs. Larkey, that he was on duty the night of November 22, and had seen them walking in Ocean Springs between 12:30 and 12:45 on that night. With this the state rested its case Wednesday shortly before noon. The defense surprised the court when it conceded a bullet from the gun found in the Morris station wagon killed Flink. Andrew Bacon, was called as a surprise witness by the defense in the afternoon. Bacon is an official court reporter in Section D of the Second District Court in New Orleans. A transcript of an official report made by Mrs. Gertrude Larkey in New Orleans was read in part to the court.

Mrs. Delores Chambers was the defense's next witness. She testified she met Morris at the Gulf Hills Dude Ranch where she was employed. It was at her suggestion that the handsome Montana cowboy take a spare room at her place for his son and himself as would be cheaper than renting a motel. She said Mrs. Larkey took care of her child while she worked, and that the Larkey's had been with her about two weeks at the time she met Morris. It was Mrs. Chambers, as she admitted under cross examination, who had retained former police Supt. Jos. Scheuring, as an investigator, and a New Orleans attorney to represent Morris when he was arrested in New Orleans. Scheuring was in Bay St. Louis but was not called to the stand at this time.

Mrs. Chambers gave testimony coinciding with previous testimony as to the events leading up to the leaving of her home by Morris, and Mr. and Mrs. Larkey on the night of November 22.

Mrs. Chambers said about a week and a half after the crime she had moved to Cicero, Ill. When she left she drove the Larkey family with her. Larkey is presently employed in Chicago. Asked by the prosecutor if she was in love with Morris, Mrs. Chambers answered 'No.' Asked if she had not attempted to shield Morris, she answered again 'No.' The witness was excused and at 2:45 p. m. Dale Morris took the stand. Fishing has been getting better right along. So far fish have been caught along the railroad bridge the past week, with the water clearing on the other side.

The bayous are clearing rapidly and with warmer weather in store
look for some good fishing.

Green trout are beginning to hit surface baits.

Teddy Stechmann and Capt.
Kidd reported catching some bass
over the weekend while trolling.

A few local fishermen have tried out at the keys for specks, but report that they are not hitting as yet. Won't be long now!

After inspecting the beach waters over the weekend a few flounder beds and soft crab sheds were sighted. Better get the old light in shape and go after them.

Looks like a good season for both.

Al Baudry a beginner at green trout fishing, snagged a few last Saturday.

Our old friend Herb Wise atter a sick spell is vying to get out, for both fishing and golf. He is doing O. K. now!

Golf held away Sunday at the Pass Christian Golf Course
when a team from Pascagoula, both ladies and gentlemen, were matched with local golfers. The local club was victorious in the matches. Supper was served to a good size crowd.

Floyd Brainard was one of the winners in his match, while his partner, Dec Elliott had a time holding his opponent, Geo
Hanford to a tie.

C. C. McDonald, Sr. also defeated his opponent with a large margin. C. C. shot a 40 on the front round. Good going C. C.

Dick Merritt and Dan Corley won for the local team.

Mrs. Hickey and her associates were in charge of the supper which was served after the golf matches. The General was busy

BASILE RUSSELL, BILLED
IN "TALL MEN" MON. & MON.

The Bi-Way Drive In Theatre has booked "The Tall Men" for Sunday and Monday, according to the manager. This epic western in Cinemascope and De Luxe color stars Clark Gable, Jane Russell, Robert Ryan and Cameron Mitchell and has been hailed as the finest outdoor picture to come out of Hollywood since "The Covered Wagon." To get the pulse-thrilling, stampede scene Director Paul Basil Walsh went to Durango, Mexico, where he rounded up 4,000 head of cattle, the largest herd ever used in a motion picture.

"The Tall Men" was adapted from Clay Fisher's novel, which chronicles the first great cattle drive over the historic Bozeman trail from Texas to Montana. In addition to being a story of an unprecedented adventure it dramatically relates a man's love for a woman, a brother's love for a brother, and the true bond between men who stand together under all circumstances.

DIANNE GRIFFON
CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Dianne Griffon, of Pass Christian, celebrated her 12th birthday Saturday and was honoree at a luncheon given by her parents at the Plantation Restaurant in the Pass.

Among the little guests invited to enjoy the celebration were a number of her classmates from St. Joseph Academy, Bay St.
Louis.

Among the guests were Dianne Henley, Laurie Kiefer, Gaynell
Erwin, Dianne Grass, Linda Ma-
zarakis, Eran Artigues, Yvonne Artigues, Marian Homes, Martha
Homes, Caroline McColister, Judy
Favre, Ursula Favre.

Delicious fried chicken with a number of side dishes whetted the healthy young appetites, and also attending bar.

Compliments were plentiful for the ladies who served a delicious supper.

Miss Catherine Purchner and Miss Sis Dambrik, not in the tourney had a hot round, however.

Alden Mauffray said although he was struggling was glad to pay off after the match.

Among the Bay people who had supper at the club were Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald, Mayor and Mrs. John Scalfie, Mr. and Mrs.
Alden Mauffray and Mr. and Mrs.
George Horton.

Chris Reab says after this week he will have some time to go fishing, maybe?

Dick Hammett was seen riding around in his golf buggy!
Looked natural Richard!

Pro. Alex Cunningham and associates did a good job of handling the tourney in an efficient manner.

THE COURT-MARTIAL OF
BILLY MITCHELL TO SHOW
AT STAR THEATRE

Gary Cooper appears on the screen Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre in the role of Billy Mitchell, the defiant general who risked disgrace and dishonor to warn his country of a great impending danger.
In the Warner Brothers presentation "The Court-Martial of Billy Mitchell."

Cooper, an old hand at films dealing with aviation, accepted the role the moment he heard the studio was planning to use him.

A powerful supporting cast co-stars with Cooper in the historic drama consisting of Charles Bickford, Ralph Bellamy, Rod Steiger and Elizabeth Montgomery, who makes her screen debut.
Elizabeth is the daughter of famed actor-producer Robert Montgomery.

Long an admirer of Mitchell,
and himself at one time seriously entertaining the idea of making aviation his career, Gary Cooper was a natural choice for the star role.

LAKESHORE TUG
SKIPPER DIES AFTER
BARGE SINKS

Mobile, Ala.—Capt. Victor L.
Johnson, Lakeshore, Miss. skipper of the tug SS Brath died of a heart attack March 19, several hours after a barge he was towing sank in Mobile harbor.

The Coast Guard said the barge, loaded with sulphur, sank in 30 feet of water off from the Alabama Dry Dock 1 Shipbuilding Co. yards. The barge was being towed from Galveston, Tex.

The tug is operated by Canal Lines, Inc. and the barge was owned by Federal

NEW TIMES FOR CATHOLIC HOLY WEEK SERVICES EXPLAINED

Services for Holy Week to be observed throughout the Catholic World

By Rev. Hugh J. Taylor, Asst. Pastor of St. Francis Parish, Bay St. Louis, La.

By a Decree of the Sacred Congregation of Rites under date of November 18, 1955 and approved by Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, Catholics who adhere to the Roman Rite are bound to follow the Restored Order of the Holy Week, beginning with the Holy Week of this year, 1956.

When we speak of a restoration, we do not speak of some-endured to the present day. These Holy Week services have such dignity, sacramental force and power for nourishing Christian life which cannot be supplied by substitutes, that they had to be restored to the people. Thus the church gave to all the people by restoring the ancient rites, the opportunity of attending and reaping the rich spiritual benefits of Holy Week.

Under the Restored Order, all the ceremonies are held in the evening hours as closely as possible to the actual hour of the mystery which they commemorate. Also under the Restored Order the faithful may receive Holy Communion on all three days under the following regulations. On Holy Thursday, they may receive Holy Communion during the Mass or immediately afterwards. On Good Friday, Holy Communion may be received only during the Solemn Ceremonies, while on Holy Saturday, Holy Communion may be received during the Mass and also immediately afterwards if necessary. This means of course that the proper fast must be observed, to wit, a fast of three hours from solid foods and a fast of one hour from liquids, except water, the use of which no longer breaks the Eucharistic Fast.

The Restoration of the Liturgy shows emphatically that Our Holy Father wishes to both bring the Liturgy of the Church to the people and the people to the Liturgy. By this Degree and approval of the Sovereign Pontiff, the faithful during these days will no doubt be brought closer to God and thus closer to their own eternal salvation.

BY BOBBIE KATT

SSC has a new boarder J. B. Roberto, a Junior, who has already gotten into the swing of things. What could be causing that impish gleam in Myra Monti's eyes? ? ?

Tuesday afternoon St. Joe High schoolers were given a very interesting talk on Vocations by three young Postulants from the Noviate in New Orleans. One of the speakers was Mariene Favre who was a graduate of '54.

Something brewing! ! ! Henry Monti has been seen quite frequently about our fascinating little town with Carol Sue Banderet.

The Dear John's usually start circulating during this famous Easter Bunny Season. Wonder who's first? ? ?

Just by way of mentioning, Beta Alpha Gamma Sorority will have their head quarters at the Reed ... BEWARE! !

SJA Freshie, Mary Louise Peranich has been spending all of her weekends here in BSL lately. Seems there is some attraction over SSC with the magic name of George Gonzales. ... Tru Luv ! ! !

The trial of Dale Morris, which has really been getting a lot of attention lately, has two most interesting spectators ... Evelyn Ladner and Barry Bontemps ...

SSC's Prom will be held April 27 on the roof of the Markham Hotel in Gulfport this year. Note: It was heard, (and this is tragic), that there is no fire escape at the hotel! !

Here's hoping everybody has a very, very happy and holy Easter!

AROUND THE CAMPUS AT - ST. STANISLAUS

"Although Ireland supplies Mississippi with a large proportion of its priests, there is no reason why the Catholic Church in Mississippi should not be able to supply its own needs from the Catholic boys of the State" said Father Kevin Bambrink, assistant priest from St. John's Parish, Gulfport, in an address last week to the members of the high school classes of Saint Stanislaus.

Father Bambrink was sent by the Most Reverend Bishop A. O. Gerow, to speak about "Vocations to the Priesthood" since March is officially Vocation Month in the Diocese. He spoke to the members of the high school assembly in the large study hall, outlining the requirements for admission to the seminary, the training of a priest, and the obligations and life of a priest after ordination. After the talk, Father Bambrink answered questions from the students.

Brother Linus, S. C., principal, attended the meetings of the Mississippi Education Association at Jackson, Mississippi on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday of last week and also Catholic Principals Meetings for the Diocese of Natchez, held in Jackson on Thursday. The theme of the Mississippi Education Association was "Proud to Teach."

The Chairman for the Catholic Schools' Principals' meetings was Father Joseph A. Koury, assistant superintendent of education for the diocese of Natchez.

Attending the "kick-off" banquet for the beginning of the drive for the new Catholic High School in Baton Rouge on March 19, were Brothers Firmin, Noel and Cosmas, and Coach Farley Day, all alumni of the present Catholic High School. Among those present were Brothers Louis, Julian, Casimir, Anslem, Cornelius, Thomas, Eldon, all former members of the faculty of St. Stanislaus.

GIRL SCOUTS

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS MEET

The Bay St. Louis Neighborhood Association met on Tuesday, March 20, at 9:00 a. m. in the Methodist Annex with Mrs. Paul Miller, president presiding.

Mrs. Bruce Shrap gave a report on a meeting she attended in Gulfport for All Neighborhood Chairmen of Live Oak Council. The purpose of this meeting was to inform the chairmen on Council Organization, and one important point brought out was that a Neighborhood Association may nominate a candidate for the office of Neighborhood Chairman, but this candidate has to be formally ratified by the Live Oak Council Board before being elected.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald gave out Blue Books for 1956 which contain National Policy on Girl Scouting. She also spoke on the importance of the Neighborhood Association in that all members hold a corporate responsibility to decide in a group what is best for the Girl Scouts.

The cookie sale was discussed and the Dairy Queen was commended for its part toward making the sale a success.

Mrs. A. K. Martinovich spoke on flower arranging which was taught at the last leaders' workshop.

Mrs. Phoebe Jones from Gulfport announced that there would be an Outdoor Training Program for Leaders and hoped all leaders would participate. The program would begin at 9:30 a. m. on Wednesday, April 25 at the Methodist Church in Gulfport and would last until 2:30 p. m. The leaders would not meet again until 1:30 p. m. on Friday, April 27, and they should be prepared for a stay overnight in the chapel of Live Oak Camp.

The coming Americana Festival to be held in Gulfport April 13 was the subject for much discussion. Bay St. Louis' contribution to the Festival will be an American Folk Dance in which all of our local troops will participate as a group. Leaders will meet with an instructor to learn this dance which they will in turn teach to their scouts. To insure a good performance a general practice will be held preceding the Festival.

Mrs. Miller announced that Mrs. Walter Rausch will again be Finance Chairman this year.

WANDERINGS

by
GEORGETTE B. HALL

In the lovely grove of pines to the rear of the Pine Burr Restaurant young Aaron Brenske built a tree house in which he and his brothers and his friends have passed many a pleasant hour.

One day not too long ago the youngster left a bucket in the tree house and soon forgot about it. The bucket was not forgotten, however, by a duck which soon sought out the bucket as a fine place to lay its eggs. Before too long the bucket was half full of eggs, the duck was nesting comfortably, and it will not be much longer before a whole brood of baby ducks will look out upon the world from a tall tree. It's interesting to wonder if they will have to learn to fly before they learn to swim.

Perhaps young Aaron will provide a new home for the little ducklings upon the ground, a more suitable place for little ones to begin their life. Mrs. Ruth Dufour, Aaron's mother, serves chicken in the pan and chicken in the basket in her restaurant. Does it follow that "Duck in the Bucket" will be next?

We thought that this was an interesting little story for our readers and thought that you might enjoy other animal, bird or pet stories from time to time. If you have an interesting story to tell, please get in touch with Mrs. T. H. Brockman, 728 Beach Boulevard, or call her at 1440, and we'll be glad to tell your story.

This is the Easter weekend. There is quite no other time like it during the year. We are invaded by young people from New Orleans who come to spend the holidays on the Gulf Coast. House parties, picnics, and houses closed for most of the year are usually opened for these few days. Our visitors are not always as careful as they could be in their driving, so let's give them a lesson in caution and safety by being careful ourselves and helping Marshal Fred Bourgeois to keep everyone safe and happy while they are in Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

Sympathy is extended to the relatives and friends of Mrs. Henry Necaise who died during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall and daughter, Lynne, and Mrs. T. H. Brockman spent Saturday in Mobile, Alabama. While they visited Mrs. Brockman's aunt, Miss Louise Frenz, who is confined to a wheel chair due to a hip injury. Miss Frenz is in a home for the aged and is in the excellent care of the nuns of the "Little Sisters of the Poor." The nuns were most gracious and cordial in receiving the guests. The brick building and spacious grounds which were in full color due to blooming azaleas are a credit to the institution and to the religious order which makes the care of these old people possible.

Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Brockman have announced that the sale of cards and stationery is over and the money paid in to them has been sent to the company furnishing the orders. Those who cooperated in this venture will receive their selections shortly. It appears that the goal of $50.00 for the Waveland Methodist Church has been made. Thanks is extended to all who made this undertaking a success.

Mr. Fred Herlihy, Bay St. Louis postmaster, is now at home where he will have to rest and recuperate from his recent heart attack. His many friends in Waveland wish him a speedy and complete recovery.

Miss Helen Rowley of Dallas, Texas, is vacationing in her Hillcrest home.

Friends of Mrs. Ed Phillips are so very glad to hear that she is getting well, slowly but surely. She can manager to walk a while in her home supported by crutches and a brace. Good luck!

Let's enter into the Easter season with a serious thought about its great religious significance. Easter isn't just the time for eggs, Pretty dresses and curly heads the time when we should know what happened so very long ago. Remember the Christ child, who became a man. And preached and taught, o'er all the land. He had to die, so you and I might live again.

He suffered and died upon the Cross. For those loved, and those lost. He rose again on the Sabbath Day. The Living Christ is here to stay. This Easter Day.

—Gert Brockman.

MURDER TRIAL

had died in July, 1955. Asked her name he said "Dr. Jean Morris." Asked what kind of a doctor she was he answered, "medical." He said he and his son left Montana the early part of last November or the last of October, he could not remember just exactly when. They came south hoping he could find winter work in Florida with horses, as he was a cowboy. He drove a 1955 red and white Pontiac station wagon; horse trailer in which he conveyed dishes, saddles, recording machine, music cabinet and sundry equipment. That he had never been in this part of the South before, and did not come by way of New Orleans, but did travel Highway 90. He traveled until he reached Ocean Springs, where he saw the Gulf Hills Dude Ranch advertised. He drove there, thinking he could park his trailer, then find a motel for his son and himself. He talked with a man, met Mrs. Chambers. He was promised a job there sometime in December. He decided not to go to Florida. He said he had sufficient funds and that he had brought the horse trailer, which he traded before leaving Montana, with the intention of selling it when he reached a destination where he would settle. That on November 22 he had about $210 in his pockets and that he, Miss Haney and Larkey drove to Mobile where he completed the sale of the trailer and that he received about $204 for it. That when he and the Larkeys started for New Orleans, that night he had better than four hundred dollars in his possession. That Larkey had promised to buy him a tire for one that had blown out when he, Morris, had driven the Larkeys to New Orleans on the Sunday preceding the Tuesday of the murder. He admitted to being drunk on the afternoon and night the crime was committed. He remembered the Larkeys being in the station wagon with him, he thought Larkey was driving and remembered stopping at a place later identified as the Friendship House. He remembered the Larkeys slapping him in the face later on to awaken him to ask him to buy them some beer, and said he left the station wagon, went into some place to buy the beer and when he returned the Larkeys had gone. He presumed he drove the station wagon and then he said he did not remember anything else. Under heavy cross examination he admitted stopping at the Seasonal Cabins near the White Kitchen, where he said he awoke on Wednesday November 23, and found he had hit a tree then stuck in the sand. He awakened the owner of the establishment, who testified that he had assisted Morris in getting his car out of the bog. That he had mentioned to Morris it was strange only the base of the jack was in the car. Morris admitted he had driven to New Orleans on November 23 that he had stayed around the city until about 7 p. m. when he met Miss Helen Poimbeuf and three other women friends of hers. They had some drinks in a place near St. Phillip and Bourbon Sts., then had driven to Martins' Restaurant on Gentilly Highway for dinner. He was driving his station wagon and the women were in Miss Poimbeuf's car which he said he followed. After dinner, they had driven to the Bellevue Motel, where he had rented a single cabin, then all had gone to the Safari Room to see the floor show. He and Miss Poimbeuf returned to the cabin and when he opened the door he was

When Morris was cross-examined the stand a recta was called. The next witness called was Bernard Pettenger of the Carolina Casualty Co. of New Orleans. He testified that he, Schearing and a New Orleans attorney had used a hidden tape recorder in a conversation they had with Larkey in Ocean Springs. Jos. Schearing took the stand and said he had been retained as an investigator on November 27. That Larkey had said to him, "Morris is guilty, so am I, I am hanging on a feather." Mrs. Larkey and Broome were called back as rebuttal witnesses. The defense rested its case about six o'clock Wednesday evening. This morning the lawyers will sum up their cases before Judge Leslie B. Grant.

YOUR FUTURE HOME may have electric master panels like this, where you'll control lighting, indoor weather and scores of electric helpers, some not even invented yet. Atomic energy will provide much of the additional electricity you will use—and electric company engineers are now developing ways to apply it economically and practically.

YOUR FRIEND... THE ATOM

More electricity, improved health, better foods, now products—all coming from the atom

The day is coming when the power of the atom will be used more for peaceful purposes than for weapons.

Probably the widest use of atomic energy will be to produce electric power. It is expected to join coal, gas and other fuels as a vast new source of heat to run power plants.

And it will be needed, too. For you are putting to work more electricity, all the time, enabling your use every 10 years or so! America will need much more power to maintain and advance a high standard of living.

That's why the electric light and power companies are studying and planning for atomic-electric power plants. Now that use of the atom is no longer limited to weapons, the people and companies most experienced in producing electricity—and medicines, chemicals, foods and other products—are free to develop its promise for you.
